

REF. 200

Baguette 230g

A white bread of French origin, with a narrow, elongated shape, a crunchy, golden crust, ideal for slicing and accompanying pâtés and cheeses.

|                                                                                   |                                                                                   |                                                                                   |                                                                                   |                                                                                   |                                                                                   |                                                                                   |
|-----------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-----------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-----------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-----------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-----------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-----------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-----------------------------------------------------------------------------------|
|  |  |  |  |  |  |  |
| 230 g                                                                             | 56 cm                                                                             | 35 u.                                                                             | 28 boxes                                                                          | 175-185 °C                                                                        | 15-20 min                                                                         | 18-23 min                                                                         |

VEGAN ·

